

CLARE GORMAN | PROJECT MANAGER

QUALIFICATIONS + MEMBERSHIPS: BTECH: DIPLOMA IN PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE (ARCHITECTURE), MASTERS IN ARCHITECTURE

UP CLOSE...

Never one to rest on her laurels, Clare's free time is packed with activities such as yoga, hiking, meditation and surfing.

Clare's dedication to a great outcome makes her a true champion for clients. She relishes the opportunity to oversee complex projects with multiple stakeholders and draws inspiration from her colleagues' passion and experience.

"I wanted to work somewhere that had a good reputation, great employees, a good relationship with clients, good systems and support in place. Now here I am at Honeywell Consulting with exactly the role I wanted," she says.

Clare's passion for orchestrating complex projects stems from an appreciation of seeing tangible results emerge from meticulous planning and teamwork.

Drawing inspiration from her love of the outdoors and hiking, she approaches each project with a strategic mindset, navigating challenges with the same precision she employs on tricky trails.

Clare cut her teeth as an architect in Dublin and still enjoys having her finger on the pulse when it comes to cutting-edge design solutions. Her transition into the project management side of things was a conscious decision, stemming from her need to have a more holistic view on projects.

"I found a whole new side to the design and construction industry and just dove into the role. It's incredibly rewarding," she says.

"I wanted to work somewhere that had a good reputation, great employees, a good relationship with clients, good systems and support in place."
